

BBT Online's Bucket List – Nathalie Paternoster (48) – Senior Project Manager at Seauton International

1. I would love to take my family for a safari in Tanzania, Botswana or South Africa. We would be driving a 4x4 through wildlife parks like Kruger National Park, the Serengeti and the Ngorongoro Crater, spotting the big five. We'd stay overnight in a luxury lodge with a view over the river, seeing a big migration of zebras and wildebeest trekking over the Savannah. Enjoying myself and relaxing with my family while it happens.
2. One day, I would like to do a duo parachute jump, whizzing downwards and landing on Mission Beach, a beach between the rain forest and the ocean in Australia. After that, I would like to enjoy a few weeks of sun, sea, beach, colourful cocktails and delicious BBQs.
3. I've already received a personalised, custom-made guitar as a gift, but sadly I haven't found the time to learn how to play it. I would like to learn how to play the guitar, but without having to learn music theory. I'd love to take it with me everywhere in my suitcase, and take it out and play I during an aperitif or after-dinner drink.
4. I would like to organise a big 80s style party with all my friends and family somewhere outdoors on the beach, under palm trees in 30 degrees heat and with a beautiful sunset. We'd party and dance all night, and we would plan in two days of rest afterwards to catch up on sleep.
5. I've been dreaming for years about going to a warm southern country and running a charming with five rooms, a paddock and some horses. I would provide a personal welcome and service for the guests. I love quality, etiquette and good service. I would cook delicious food and enjoy the peach and nature together with the animals.
