

Maastricht: dynamic & festive city!

Maastricht is not a very big city, but it's a city that does not cease to amaze and come up with different attraction points.

The BBox at Beaumont Hotel is one of these innovations. A new way of handling meetings, perfect for brainstorming or other decision making meeting sessions. Imagine a room divided in 3 parts: one for relaxing, one for informal meetings and one with a U-shape bar & chairs for about 15 people facing a wall with two big screens. Technically it offers the possibility of videoconferencing with several different locations on screen, the room is wired for sound so participation by all is possible and the hotel guarantees no interruptions once the session starts. After 6 pm hotelguests can use the room as a relaxing business centre. For more information, go to www.thebbox.com "Wanna get out of the box, get into the BBox!"

If you want to feel Maastricht 'vibrate', go to one of the concerts that take place every year at the Vrijthof in open air and enjoy great music by one of the cities most popular ambassadors: André Rieu. He has traveled around the world with his great orchestra and singers but when he plays 'home' he really comes into his own and has more than 6,000 people singing and dancing with him! A great experience even if the music is not really your thing, his enthusiasm works contagious and makes all feel very happy by the end of the evening...what more can one ask for...?

www.maastrichtconventionbureau.com